

Senate Fights Over ERP Bill

Prospects Of Early Vote Fade

Washington, April 7—(AP)—The Senate recessed tonight without reaching a vote on the $5,580,000,000 foreign aid bill after seven hours of stormy debate punctuated by shouts of "insult" and "steamroller" tactics.

Forecasts by leaders of both parties that a final vote on passage of the European recovery measure would be reached today went glimmering as the debate exploded into acrid personalities.

Recess came at 5:05 p.m., C.S.T. Just before quitting, Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the Senate foreign relations committee asked unanimous consent that the Senate start voting at 1 p.m. (CST) tomorrow on the bill and all remaining amendments.

Morse Objects
Connally didn't get it. Senator Morse (R-Ore.), who had roared with Connally earlier, quickly spoke up: "I object."

That left the way open for unlimited continuation of the 12-day-old debate on recovery funds. Starting the day off with a stack of 19 amendments awaiting action, the lawmakers succeeded in cutting the number down by exactly one.

By a 72-to-10 vote, the Senate battled down a proposal by Senator Malone (R-Nev.) to cut off all U.S. grants, except food and medical supplies, and to write out all future U.S. aid on a strict I.O.U. loan basis.

Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) joined Morse and others in tugging with Connally, Democratic floor manager of the air bill, in the course of the day.

Renews Charges
McCarthy, renewing his charge that the French are discriminating against American business men operating in French Morocco, told the Senate that Connally had said he knew of only "one little case" of discrimination.

McCarthy said he supposed this was due to a bad memory on the part of Connally, but he said such a statement was "just as bad as though the senator was trying to deceive us."

Flushing with anger, Connally rose and asked McCarthy to yield. McCarthy refused.

"All you do is insult me," Connally shouted, "and then refused to yield."

Late in the day, Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), a member of the Senate foreign relations committee, introduced an amendment seeking to bar the Marshall plan administration from spending any American dollars to "expand" socialism in western Europe.

Grant Delay Of 60 Days To Find Key Witness In Trial
Chicago, April 7—(AP)—A 60-day delay was granted today in the trial of John L. "Jiggs" Sullivan after the state announced it couldn't find its key witness.

Sullivan is charged with masterminding the $2,000,000 E. H. Rumbold Co. safe deposit vault robbery here four years ago. Judge Daniel A. Roberts of criminal court granted the delay after Prosecutor Clement Cody said the state's star witness, Thomas Leahy, had disappeared. Leahy was in Chicago last week end, but can not be located now, Cody said.

Burma Expects To Receive Surrender Of Rebels Today

Rangoon, Burma, April 7—(AP)—The Burmese government expects to receive tomorrow the surrender of Karen tribesmen, who have been in rebellion for almost 10 weeks. The military branch of the Karen national union (KNU) will lay down arms in a capitulation ceremony scheduled for tomorrow morning in Shwethar Insein, 10 miles north of Rangoon, government officials said.

Saw Ba U Gyi, president of KNU, will make the surrender on behalf of Karen forces throughout the country.

(This dispatch, which passed through government censorship, made no reference to other rebellious groups, including communists. The Karen rebellion, however, provided the strongest threat to the government. Censorship has not permitted any statement concerning how many troops on each side were involved in the fighting.)

A series of revolts has shaken Burma since the nation cast off British rule Jan. 4, 1948.

Chiefs Of Staff Travel To Florida To See Eisenhower

Key West, Fla., April 7—(AP)—The joint chiefs of staff arrived here tonight from Washington for a meeting with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The party was headed by Gen. Omar Bradley, army chief of staff; Adm. Louis E. Denfield, chief of naval operations; and Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff.

The general said prior to their arrival he was "optimistic" about world affairs.

"I don't believe optimism is out of place in this world of ours," he told newspaper men at his first press conference since his arrival March 28 to recuperate from a stomach ailment. "We've been underestimating ourselves."

He said he was "delighted" with the signing of the Atlantic pact which he called a step in the right direction.

U.S. To Construct Big Luxury Liner Like Queen Mary
Washington, April 7—(AP)—The maritime commission announced today a decision to build a new $70,000,000 queen of the American merchant fleet.

The 48,000-ton, 980-foot super liner will be the largest passenger ship ever built in the United States. The maritime commission, in announcing the action, said United States Lines, Inc., has agreed to pay $28,000,000 of the construction costs. The remaining $42,000,000 will come from federal subsidy funds.

Georgia Teachers Strike In Protest Over Low Salaries

Atlanta, April 7—(AP)—Almost 200 Georgia teachers quit their classes today and urged thousands of others to join a statewide protest walkout. A leader in the movement said more than 1,000 teachers will join an indefinite "recess" of their classes by Monday. School doors will be closed in more than 20 counties, he added.

Teachers' tempers flared after Georgia voters in a referendum Tuesday sharply defeated new taxes for a $23,000,000 school improvement fund.

L. M. Shelf of Rockmart, Ga., president of the Folk county teachers association and a top organizer of the walkouts, said the purpose was to force a special session of the legislature.

As the move spread, Gov. Herman Talmadge cautioned against rash action.

State auditor B. E. Thrasher, Jr., declared a no-work, no-pay policy. He said teacher salaries would be docked for the days the teachers remain out.

Testifies Airplane Plant Was Target Of Reds In 1947

New York, April 7—(AP)—A jet airplane engine plant of the General Electric Co. at Lynn, Mass., was a target of a 1947 communist party organizational drive, a government witness said today.

The witness was Herbert A. Philbrick, FBI contact man in the communist party nine years. He told the jury in the communist conspiracy trial of a membership campaign in key industries in Massachusetts.

Party members were directed at a February, 1947, conference to take jobs in such industries and to try to recruit new members at the plants, Philbrick testified.

The instructions were given by many Blum, New England district organizer for the party, the witness added.

Philbrick, 33-year-old Boston advertising man who said yesterday he joined the party to keep the FBI informed of its activities, said the Lynn jet engine plant was mentioned specifically.

Other targets, he testified, were the Boston railroad yards and the leather and textile industries in New England.

Attempt To Wreck 12-Car Passenger Train Is Foiled

East Chicago, Ind., April 7—(AP)—An apparent attempt to wreck a fast 12-car Baltimore and Ohio railroad passenger train at East Chicago was averted by a one-hour margin Tuesday, police reported today.

East Chicago police said Earl Hartlerode, "an inspector for the railroad, gave them this account: A railroad spike was discovered wedged into a switch on the main line at East Chicago Tuesday morning by Norman Henning, flagman on a Pere Marquette freight.

FLIES JET THROUGH HIGH TENSION WIRE

Aldergrove, Eng., April 7—(AP)—A pilot flew a jet plane through a high tension line at 500 miles an hour today and lived.

Furthermore, Flight Lt. R. C. Williams brought the plane back safely to base. It was damaged only slightly.

The plane snapped the line and cut off electric service to several northern Ireland towns.

Believe Admiral Kirk Will Be U.S. Minister To USSR

Washington, April 7—(AP)—Vice Admiral Alan G. Kirk, a naval commander of World War II who can play the diplomatic game with a poker face, is understood to be the president's choice for American ambassador to Moscow.

Kirk has been ambassador to Belgium and minister to Luxembourg, holding both posts simultaneously, since February, 1946. At present he is in Washington for consultation. Assuming that he is personally acceptable to the Kremlin, President Truman is expected to announce his appointment soon.

When asked about his reported selection of Kirk at a news conference late today, Mr. Truman first said he had no comment. Then when a second question pressed the matter, the president replied that he had not decided on a choice.

Greek Army And Guerrillas Issue Conflicting Stories

Athens, April 7—(AP)—The general staff implied today the Greek army has pulled the teeth of the guerrilla offensive in the Grammos mountains.

However, the guerrilla radio, voice of Greek communists, declared the guerrillas have destroyed or captured one government army brigade and part of another and "the wearing down of enemy forces is continuing with undiminished pressure."

A government communiqué declared all danger to Greece has been eliminated and counter operations are developing "highly satisfactorily."

By the conflicting guerrilla radio account: "Government losses in killed wounded and captured in six days of fighting in the Grammos until the evening of April 6 amounted to over 3,900 men and officers. The number of prisoners was 793."

Find Missing Girl Safe In Bed After All Night Search

Chicago, April 7—(AP)—A search of near north side sewers and basements for three year old Patricia Anne Bogseth was called off today.

She turned up, snug in a strange bed about a mile from her parents' home, Irene Wall, 28, a nurse attendant, had taken charge of Patricia Anne about 5 p.m., yesterday after the child apparently lost her bearings in a park.

"She was crying, and her nose had been bleeding, so I took her home, fed her, tucked her in, and washed her clothes," Miss Wall told police. Then, late this morning, she notified the police.

Asks Drastic Farm Control And Subsidies

Washington, April 7—(AP)—A sweeping new farm program, which would remove the price "floors" from under many foods, create a new system of subsidies to producers and subject farms to drastic controls, was proposed today by the Truman administration.

If approved by Congress it would be the most far-reaching overhaul of agricultural legislation since the early new deal days.

It should let prices of milk, eggs, vegetables and other vital perishable food crops drop as far and fast as they would.

Direct Subsidies
To prevent losses to the farmer on such products it would grant direct subsidies from the federal treasury, to be financed eventually out of taxes.

Aid to farmers would take a different form for storable crops like grain and cotton. Their prices would be kept up through loans and purchases to take the surpluses off the market, as is done now.

Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan took the plan before a joint meeting of the house and senate agriculture committees. He proposed to back it up with broader farm controls than ever.

Committeemen, quickly burying themselves in the complexities of the plan, had little to say. They will begin firing questions at Brannan tomorrow. But one of their number, Senator Aiken (R-Vt.) took the senate floor to criticize the enforcement features.

Two Main Requirements
Brannan wants to back up his plan with two main requirements—farmer compliance with all government programs applying to the crops he produces, and soil conservation. Aiken said this meant the government can tell a farmer how to use all his land; that it gives the government much more control that it has ever had "over the nation's 6,000,000 farms."

Two large farmer organizations looked at it with mixed reaction. President James G. Patton of the national farmers union called it an example of "statesmanship" with "good and sound" principles. The farmers union wishes it had gone further in a number of respects.

But Roger Fleming, director of the Washington office of the American Farm Bureau Federation, said the federation's membership would have to be polled before the bureau could consider supporting "the changes recommended in this startling reversal of policy."

Fleming said the bureau's present position is in support of the 1948 agricultural act "which we feel is sound and worthy of a fair trial." This is the so-called Aiken farm law passed by the Republican 80th congress which the Brannan proposals would replace.

Methane Gas, Mud Gush From Ground In Italian Village

Milan, Italy, April 7—(AP)—Hundreds of villagers were evacuated today from Basiglio a north Italian hamlet which suddenly found itself among huge geysters of methane gas and mud. The biggest reportedly fountained 5,000 feet in the air.

Police said the evacuation was ordered because of the danger of fires and explosions from the inflammable, colorless gas, which normally is formed by rotting vegetable matter.

Ezra Winter, 63, Famous Painter, Commits Suicide

Canaan, Conn., April 7—(AP)—Ezra Winter, 63, internationally known artist, was found shot through the head today in woods adjoining his estate here. Beside the body was a shotgun.

Dr. R. C. Sellow, medical examiner, said the painter, whose murals decorated many public buildings, had committed suicide.

The body was discovered by a caretaker on the Winter estate, Fred Blackwell, when he went to call Winter for his noontime meal from the large studio where he did much of his work. Walking about a quarter of a mile into the woods, Blackwell found the body, sprawled on the ground.

Police said Winter had been in ill health for more than a year. He injured his hip a month ago and had had difficulty in walking since. He left no notes or letters, his family stated.

At the time of his death, the artist was engaged in doing the last of seven mural paintings for the Bank of Manhattan in New York City.

England Closes School That Has No Discipline

Ecclestone, Eng., April 7—(AP)—A magistrates' court decided today to close a school whose boys and girls discussed sex and entered each other's bedrooms at night.

A woman worker at the school testified a girl student "about 15 or 16" once asked for a contraceptive. She said she gave the girl one.

Other witnesses related that the children talked freely about love in "short Anglo-Saxon words" and were never disciplined.

The court held that Robert Copping, 29, bearded headmaster of Horsley hall, and his partner, Edward Reynolds, 31, were unfit to be in charge of the school's 22 pupils.

It also ruled the environment was detrimental to the children. The court delayed issuing an order against Copping and Reynolds until the beginning of the next school term, May 5.

Kills 2-Year-Old Brother Because He Kept Crying

Portage, Pa., April 7—(AP)—John Packauski, 18, stabbed his two-year-old brother to death today "because he wouldn't quit crying," Cambria County Detective John Casteel reported.

The victim was Walter Packauski, youngest of seven children of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Packauski. The father is a coal miner in this small community about 18 miles east of Johnstown.

John was arrested less than two hours after the slaying. Casteel said John—whom he described as "a backward youth"—freely admitted the slaying in a signed statement. He said John was passed by the Republican 80th congress which the Brannan proposals would replace.

Fleming said the bureau's present position is in support of the 1948 agricultural act "which we feel is sound and worthy of a fair trial." This is the so-called Aiken farm law passed by the Republican 80th congress which the Brannan proposals would replace.

Grand Jury Orders Cicero To Remove Handbook Betting

Chicago, April 7—(AP)—The Cook county grand jury was reported today to have ordered the police chief of suburban Cicero, the late Al Capone's home town during prohibition days, to stop handbook betting there.

The chief, Martin Wojciechowski, was hailed before the grand jury today on a subpoena obtained by John S. Boyle, the state's attorney. Two members of Wojciechowski's police force, officers Thomas Kazakos and Elmer Granso, also were called to testify.

The grand jury's reported action, after listening to accounts of the Cicero gambling situation, was to warn Wojciechowski to close handbooks and to check up during the next few weeks to see if the lid is clamped down.

Boyle announced before the grand jury session today that he would ask indictment charging Wojciechowski with misfeasance in office.

A week ago, Boyle threatened the Cicero police chief, Sheriff Elmer Michael Walsh and eight other suburban police chiefs with grand jury action unless they close up horse betting parlors in their territories.

U.N. Committee Orders Full Airing Of Clergy Trials

Lake Success, April 7—(AP)—A full airing of the trials of churchmen convicted behind the iron curtain was ordered today by the United Nations steering committee over bitter Soviet protests.

The vote was 11 to 2 (Russia and Poland). Iran abstained. The question now goes to the 58-nation general assembly. It concerns the cases of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty of Hungary and the 15 Protestant clergymen imprisoned in Bulgaria.

The overwhelming majority in the steering committee indicated the assembly would carry on full debate in the 58-nation committee and plenary sessions.

Jacob A. Malik, Soviet deputy foreign minister, and Julius Katsuchy of Poland showed plainly they intended to widen the scope of human rights debate. In the preliminaries, Malik referred to the treatment of Negroes and colonials.

Book Mrs. N. Wire As Head Of Cook County Vice Ring

Chicago, April 7—(AP)—Police today booked Mrs. Norma Wire, 24, arrested Tuesday night in a raid which Captain Thomas Harrison said ripped the nerve center of a "million-dollar-a-year" vice ring.

She was charged with directing persons to houses of prostitution and was ordered to appear tomorrow before Municipal Judge Mason S. Sullivan.

Mrs. Wire was found by police sitting at a table before two telephones in a bare room at 640 North Clark St. Also on the table were two leatherbound note books containing the names, birthdates and other information on 2,500 men. Captain Harrison said the men were clients who telephoned the ring for appointments with prostitutes.

The names included those of many prominent persons. Some were residents of foreign countries who have visited Chicago in recent months.

No Comment On Nourse's Suggestion

Washington, April 7—(AP)—President Truman left up in the air today the question whether foreign aid funds and the armed forces budget would be cut to pay for arming Europe.

At a news conference, the president did not endorse nor did he reject a suggestion made by his top economic adviser, Dr. Edwin G. Nourse.

Nourse made a speech Tuesday on the economic aspects of the Atlantic defense pact and the forthcoming arms program for strengthening Europe against communism. This program is unofficially estimated to cost $1,250,000,000 or more the first year.

Should Cut ERP
Although the Nourse speech was couched in economic language, authoritative sources said he meant that existing programs for "security" should be reexamined and cut here and there, to absorb all or most of the cost of the European arms program.

Officials said the speech had been cleared with Mr. Truman in advance. Asked about it today, Mr. Truman said Nourse spoke as an economist and some of his statements had been distorted out of context. Asked who distorted them, he said the offenders were some commentators. He said he didn't know whether any newspaper stories had been distorted.

Asked whether there would be an additional budget request for European arms over and above the present $41,900,000,000 budget for the 1950 fiscal year beginning next July 1, Mr. Truman had no comment.

Treated Separately
He said, however, the arms program would be treated as a separate matter, as he stated in his January budget message to congress. He said it would be submitted to congress as soon as ready.

As for other fiscal matters, the president said there had been no change in his attitude—that taxes should be increased by $4,000,000,000. The press conference otherwise was notably mainly for the number of no-comment answers to correspondents' questions.

When asked whether it is possible that Navy Secretary Sullivan may quit the government and resume his law practice, Mr. Truman said he didn't know.

The president declined a request that he "clarify" his remarks last night on the atom bomb. He told a gathering of legislators he "wouldn't hesitate to order the bomb dropped again if the welfare of the world's democracies were at stake."

Says Young Killer, Lang, Cannot Tell Right From Wrong

Chicago, April 7—(AP)—A child psychiatrist today described Howard Lang, 14, on trial on a charge of murdering a chum, as incapable of telling right from wrong.

The defense witness, Dr. George J. Mohr, gave testimony directly contradictory to that given previously by two prosecution psychiatrists.

Howard's second trial in criminal court resumed today after a week's delay. The presiding judge, John A. Sbarbaro, has been ill. At his first trial the boy pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 22 years imprisonment. The supreme court ordered a retrial.

Dr. Mohr was presented a hypothetical question which required defense counsel almost 30 minutes to state. It traced the history of a 14-year-old boy, his background, his training and asked if he might be able to tell right from wrong. Dr. Mohr said he did not believe such a boy could make such a decision.

The law requires that such questioning be hypothetical rather than direct because the witness has no first hand knowledge of the defendant's life.

NU Traffic Expert Named To Improve Police Of Chicago

Chicago, April 7—(AP)—A Northwestern University traffic expert was appointed today to figure out ways to improve the administration of the Chicago police department.

Appointment of James A. Pryde, director of the extension division of the university's traffic institute and a former superintendent of Washington state police, was announced by Mayor Martin H. Kennelly.

Kennelly said Pryde will make a year's survey of the entire police department, principally in its administrative department. The mayor said no reorganization of the department was planned and that Pryde would work with Commissioner John C. Prendergast on means of improving the department.

Truman Appoints S.T. Early As Defense Undersecretary

Washington, April 7—(AP)—President Truman brought Stephen T. Early back into government service today, naming him to the newly created post of undersecretary of defense.

This was another in a series of administration moves designed to streamline operations of the national military establishment and to speed real unification of the armed services.

The 60-year-old Early—known as "Steve" to thousands of newsmen—brings to the new assignment a long background of intimate familiarity with top-level government operations here and abroad.

Man's Body Sent From Seattle To Elgin By Mistake

Elgin, Ill., April 7—(AP)—A man's body, sent here from Seattle by mistake, lies unclaimed in an Elgin funeral home pending a check of the fingerprints by the FBI.

But the family that had the body sent here will be reimbursed for expenses—about $476—the coroner's office in Seattle said today.

Seattle police had informed Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ruffcorn of Elgin that their son, Lewis, a partly disabled Navy veteran, died there of a heart attack Friday. The Ruffcorns asked that the body be shipped here for burial. When the body arrived Tuesday, however, it wasn't their son.

Find Stolen Bonds In Banker's Attic

New York, April 7—(AP)—A cache of bonds—the entire $390,000 worth allegedly stolen by Banker Richard Crowe—was found in the attic of his home today by FBI agents, authorities announced. Crowe had been quoted as saying he threw the bonds in the Atlantic ocean.

The discovery was made at Crowe's Staten Island home, the FBI said, after a talk with his attorney, Peter F. Gulotta. Crowe allegedly stole the bonds from his bank two weeks ago.

The former assistant manager of a branch of the National City Bank was arrested in Daytona Beach, Fla., earlier this week.

List 74 Dead As Effingham Steps Up New Hospital Drive

Effingham, Ill., April 7—(AP)—Officials of fire-ravaged St. Anthony's hospital tonight set the toll at 74 as diggers in the ruins neared the end of their grim search.

Msgr. Jesse Gatton, diocesan hospital superintendent, announced the official totals as 70 known dead and four reported missing. Ten of the 70 recovered bodies were unidentified, chiefly because of their charred condition.

The sorrowful city, meanwhile, turned from its funerals and stepped up a drive for money to build a new $2,500,000 hospital.

COUNCIL SHOULD BE GOVERNED BY VOTE ON DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME

As a result of the action of the city council Monday night the citizens of Jacksonville will again get an opportunity to express themselves on the subject of daylight saving time. The vote will be advisory only and the council will not be bound by the outcome of the poll. It is to be hoped, however, that our aldermen will be governed by the will of the majority whether it is for or against the so-called fast time.

There is absolutely no sense whatever in having such an unofficial poll if the results of it are completely ignored. The last time a referendum on the subject was held the proposal to go on daylight time was soundly defeated by the electorate, yet, over the objection of the mayor and some aldermen, the council went right ahead and passed an ordinance putting daylight time in effect. This summary action evoked criticism even from many who personally favored the new time.

Unfortunately, it does not lie within the power of the city governing body to provide an entirely satisfactory answer to the problem. Time tinkering on a local level invariably results in confusion. If time changes are to be made, uniformity should exist at least throughout the state.

We have to face the fact, however, that cities all around us set their clocks on the last Sunday in April and we must try somehow to make the best of a confused situation. There is probably no better way to seek a solution than to put the matter to a public vote and to let the views of the majority prevail. The mayor and the present council are to be commended for their decision to call for this advisory vote. They should follow through by enacting an ordinance which will truly reflect the prevailing public opinion.

The Treasury Department now collects nearly 21 billion dollars a year in taxes on alcohol.

Rent Control Picture Is a Spotty One

This map shows areas under federal rent control as the Housing and Rent Act of 1947 expired and the new "compromise" rent control bill enacted by Congress went into effect. In the areas shown on the map are approximately 14,250,000 controlled rental units, plus 500,000 others under lease, which were not controlled. Under the new law, the latter will return to control at current lease rents. Map data from Office of the Housing Expediter. Numbers designate control areas. Note that there is no Area Seven.

THE DOCTOR SAYS
White Blood Cell
Count Helps Fight
Many Infections

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.
Written For NEA Service

The white blood cells have a great deal to do with the resistance of the body to infection. They increase in number in the presence of many kinds of infections. Usually, there are about 7500 white blood cells in each cubic millimeter of blood (as compared with about 5,000,000 red cells).

Because there are so many more red cells, the white cells can only be counted satisfactorily when the red cells have been destroyed by a special solution.

The count of the number of white cells is made by placing measured quantity of blood into a solution which dissolves the red cells. After mixing some of the solution is placed between two glass slides which have markings which can be seen under the microscope. The distance between the glass slides is also known. The white cells are then counted under the microscope and the calculation of the number per cubic millimeter is made by simple arithmetic.

DIAGNOSTIC AID
The white blood count is an extremely important test in studying many infections. For example, the white blood count is almost always raised in acute appendicitis. The number of white cells is also increased in many infections, so that it is not what doctors call a "specific" test, but rather a reflection of an inflammation or infection somewhere in the body.

The white cells are sometimes damaged by disease, but more commonly by drugs or poisons. This causes a drop below the normal count. In such cases the resistance of the body is lowered and a person becomes more susceptible to infections.

The white cells or leukocytes are important in diagnosing many diseases. They are counted and studied in almost everyone who goes to a hospital or to see a doctor.

Note: Dr. Jordan is unable to answer individual questions from readers. However, each day he will answer one of the most frequently asked questions in his column.

THE DOCTOR ANSWERS
By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.
QUESTION: What causes nerve deafness?
ANSWER: This cannot be definitely answered because there may be several possible causes. In some cases it seems to be a family tendency and in others a tumor pressing on the nerve may be responsible. In still others no obvious cause can be found.

Holy Week services for the Methodist church of Arenzville and Concord have been announced by the pastor, Rev. Robert Pitts.

Each church will begin Holy Week by observing Palm Sunday with baptism of children and adults. The Arenzville service begins at 9:30 a. m. and the Concord service begins at 11:00 a. m. Holy Week evening services will begin at 7:30 p. m. and are arranged as follows: Monday, April 11 at Concord; Tuesday, April 12 at Arenzville; Wednesday, April 13 at Concord; Thursday, April 14 at Arenzville; Friday, April 15 at 7:30 p. m. members of both churches will unite for a Candlelight Communion service at the Concord church. Fire Damages Attic
At Nurses Dormitory

Quick and efficient work by members of the Jacksonville fire department saved Frye Nurses Home, 717 East Douglas avenue, from destruction by fire at 11:30 o'clock Thursday morning. The firefighters worked so rapidly that the blaze was confined to the attic of the building.

The fire had gained considerable headway before it was discovered and an alarm sent to the fire department.

Chief Charles Lonergan ordered two lines laid from nearby hydrants and the firemen started their battle against the flames. The men were forced to don gas masks to enter the smoke-filled attic. The heat was intense. Within five minutes after the firemen gained entrance to the attic by means of a stairway, the flames were under control. The firemen then walked out on the roof of a porch on the southeast corner of the building and put out a blaze on the cor-

Boyle's Column

How To Get Along
With Your Boss

By Hal Boyle
New York—(P)—To the poor man's philosopher:
"Dear Sir,

"Will you help a young man what is trying hard to rise in the world? How can I get my boss to know me better so I can ask him for a raise?" (Signed) Ambitious."

Certainly, my boy. I will try to advise you. It is refreshing indeed to find anybody still interested in that fine old vanishing American art—buttering up the boss. Too many people today have the idea that "boss" is just another four-letter word.

But I think you are approaching the problem in the wrong way. You don't want your boss to know you better—you may never get a raise then. What you want is for you yourself to get to know the boss better.

Bosses, after all, are people. They want to be understood, appreciated, yes—even liked. But they are wary because they know the men under them often regard them only as a human jackpot.

So, young man, the first thing to do is to avoid looking at your boss as if he were a cash register.

Try To Put Him At Ease
Try to put him at his ease. Don't let him feel too self-conscious around you. If he tells a joke, laugh. If he tells the same joke the next day—laugh again. Try, when possible, to get him to tell his jokes after you have had your lunch. Laughter on an empty stomach sounds hollow and may make him suspicious.

There is another important point. If he tells a joke to a group of employees, don't be the first or the last one to laugh. Bosses always make a disturbing mental note about people who get the point too soon or too late. They are likely to figure the first man is trying to get his job, and the last one is too dumb to be worth his wages.

By now you will have won the confidence of your boss. The next step is to give him what he needs—self-confidence.

He Needs A Good Word
Don't sit around waiting for him to come up and give you a good word. He needs a good word himself. He wants to know that you appreciate his own virtues more than he wants to praise your virtues.

Stroll into his private office sometime, give him a friendly slap on the back and say:

"Boss, I just want you to know that everybody around the plant has been noticing the swell job you're doing. Keep it up."

Don't make a special point of it. Do it in an offhand way—as if the thought had just crossed your mind. You'll be amazed at how a simple act of kindness like this will win his heart.

It would be a mistake to presume too soon on this new warm feeling of fellowship between you. Don't try to reach for his pocketbook too soon. After hooking a fish there is still the problem of getting it into the boat.

Let a year or two pass—they go quickly these days. By then he will be calling you by your first name. If you are still on the payroll. He will begin to notice the signs of faithful gray spreading at your temples, and the idea will suddenly come to him that here is a man that ought to be getting more money.

Do It In A Carefree Way
And that is the time to put another idea into his mind—that the money has to come from him.

Do it in a light carefree way. You might, for example, come to work bare-footed some morning. If he happens to notice it, just laugh and say:

"Well, boss, you know things are getting so expensive a man has to begin cutting down on luxuries." And the chances are he'll give you a raise that very day. Or—at the very least—he'll come in the next day carrying a pair of his own second-hand shoes for you.

In either case you'll know he has you in mind.

You can combine salad and dessert occasionally by serving a frozen fruit salad with crisp crackers.

Last year, Kroger also awarded 77 scholarships, at these colleges, a continuation of a program started 10 years ago. Something of a record was hung up by this lamb, owned by J. K. George, of Thayer, Kans., when she gave birth to sextuplets. Something of a feeding problem was created, too. Doctor Gives Cancer Warning

Washington — (AP) — Some doctors sometimes mistake a cancer for a non-malignant growth and don't cut extensively enough in removing it. A Boston cancer expert says. Declaring that doctors, in operating on any "ambiguous" growth—such as a lump they might suspect of being only a benign "wen"—should always keep the possibility of cancer in mind, Dr. Grantley W. Taylor told reporters.

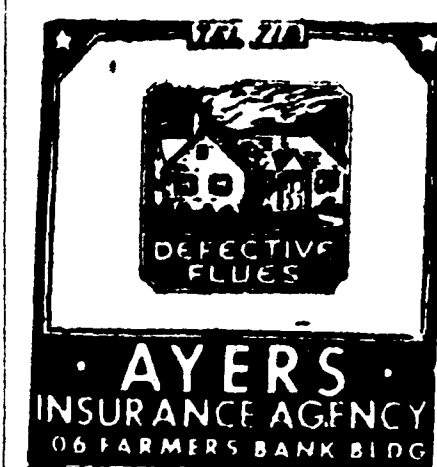

"It's much better to do too much surgery for a benign condition than to do too little for a malignancy," Chairman of the cancer committee of the American College of Surgeons which met here recently, Taylor said he was speaking of incorrect diagnosis of "sarcomas"—that is, cancer that originates in relation to "mass" tissues, such as muscles, tendons, bones, and beneath the skin. They are distinguished from "carcinomas"—or cancers that originate on the surface of an organ or the surface of the "ducts" of an organ, such as in the breast.

He said a benign growth might be compared to a chestnut (though not necessarily of that size) whereas a sarcoma has surrounding offshoots that might be compared to a chestnut with the burrs still on it.

"If you just skin around a lump you feel," he said, "you're left behind" in the case of a sarcoma—so that the condition recurs.

Asserting that "your first chance of cure is your best chance," Taylor said that at Massachusetts General hospital the cure rate among original sarcomas is 50 per cent—but only 25 per cent among sarcomas that have recurred.

Hospital Quick Is Ticket For Burns

Washington — (AP) — Don't waste valuable time in attempted first-aid when someone in your house gets severely burned, a Chicago doctor warns. Just wrap the patient in a blanket, a sheet or even an overcoat—and get him to a hospital fast, is the advice of Dr. Harvey S. Allen.

Don't try to apply a poultice or any dressing, don't even wait to call your family doctor, says the Northwestern Medical school surgeon. Just "go to a hospital" as quickly as possible, he says, so that treatment can commence rapidly. He spoke at a surgeon's meeting here.

He says that invariably people try to give some kind of first aid in such cases instead of speeding the patient to hospital care. He pointed out that the role of the blanket, sheet or overcoat would be to prevent further infection from getting into the burned area.

He says he never uses an anesthetic or analgesic (pain-killing procedures) on severely-burned children, and rarely on adults because of the possibility of shock. He added "we've been amazed at how little pain a patient has" if cold air is kept from getting at the burned area.

Heat leftover cooked rice with a little butter or margarine, then add bits of shrimp or diced cooked ham, cooked green peas or snapbeans, and a little finely cut celery. Flavor the whole thing with onion juice, soy sauce, and a dash of sugar—if you like a Chinese touch.

A delicious sandwich filling to serve for afternoon tea is made by mixing finely chopped chicken with crushed pineapple (drained) and mayonnaise, salt, pepper, and paprika.

Jerseyville Takes Steps To Improve Water Supply

Jerseyville—The City of Jerseyville is taking steps to increase and improve the quality of its water supply. At a meeting of the city council Tuesday evening a contract was made with Edward Axton Engineering firm of St. Louis, Mo., to make a survey of the needs of the city at present and the foreseeable future. The survey will get underway immediately regarding the increasing of the supply and the cost of a filtering system in conjunction with the chlorination system. At present the water is not filtered and there are times when the turbidity is so heavy that chlorination cannot be effective in rendering the water safe for human consumption.

Recently the Illinois State Board of health served final notice on the City that something would have to be done to increase and improve the safety of the water supply. Checkups of the water showed there was danger at times of infection from its use and the liability of the city in such instances would be of a serious nature.

It's Ladies' Day in Berlin Dentistry

The dental classes at the Free University of Berlin are overcrowded these days—with women. The influx of women in dentistry makes every day a ladies' day in classrooms such as this. Here, Professor Ulrich Fehr gives his students—all of them women but one—a lesson in filling cavities. The university was established by the western powers to accommodate students barred from the Soviet-sector University of Berlin because their parents weren't workers. Elmer Wardell, 22, Dies at Hospital Thursday Morning

Ashland.—Elmer Lee Wardell, 22-year-old Ashland farm worker, died suddenly Thursday at 1 a.m. at St. John's hospital in Springfield. Death came unexpectedly, as he had not been seriously ill until Wednesday, when he was rushed to the hospital about 7 p.m.

Wardell was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Wardell and was born at Newmansville on March 12, 1927. He was married to Miss Mildred Farmer at Carrollton on Sept. 1, 1946. To this union was born one son, Roger Dale.

Other survivors are two brothers and two sisters, Raymond of Port Knox, Ky., and Jack, Mrs. Jessie Mae Curry and Gladys Ann Wardell, all of Ashland.

The decedent was a seaman, second class, in the U. S. Navy and served aboard the battleship U.S.S. Ballou. He received four medals, the American Army Campaign medal, the European-African-Middle Eastern Campaign medal, the Victory medal and the Asiatic-Pacific Area Campaign medal.

The body is at the Gainer Funeral Home where services will be held on Saturday, with the Rev. Glen Faulk, pastor of the Christian church, officiating. Burial will be in the Ashland cemetery.

Former Resident Here Witnesses Effingham Fire

The Journal Courier Thursday received a letter from Mrs. Marcella Tobin Miers of Springfield, a former local resident, stating that she witnessed the tragic hospital fire at Effingham, Ill.

Mrs. Miers, who was formerly Miss Marcella Tobin of Jacksonville, was transacting business in Effingham. She said that she was awakened by her landlady at 12:30 o'clock the morning of the blaze and went to the scene. She witnessed many heroic rescues and also heard the cries of those trapped in the building.

Mrs. Miers said she met Father Rathgeb, formerly of Jacksonville, at the fire scene.

While a resident of this city, Mrs. Miers resided in the 1000 block on East Lafayette avenue.

MANUAL ARTS BUILDING CHARRED BY FIRE

Firemen had just brought a threatening blaze under control at the David Prince Junior High school woodworking shop Wednesday night when this picture was taken. It shows the blackened and charred window sashes on one side of the frame building. The blaze is believed to have started under a magazine rack near the south wall. Nearly all of the department's tools were lost and some of the benches were destroyed. The fire occurred between 9 and 10 o'clock.

Betty Hicks Of Golf Fame To Visit City

Of interest to golf enthusiasts is the approaching visit of Miss Betty Hicks, former Women's National open golf champion, who will come to Jacksonville, Saturday, April 9, under the sponsorship of the physical education department of MacMurray College.

According to an announcement by Miss Betty Foster McCue, instructor of golf at MacMurray, Miss Hicks will spend Saturday morning giving lessons to physical education majors at the college. At 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon she will give a demonstration on the Jacksonville Country Club course, to which the public is cordially invited.

Miss Hicks is well known to followers of golf tournaments, and runner-up with Babe Didrickson Zaharis last year. She has recently been holding golf clinics in various places, and comes to MacMurray from the Midwest Physical Education Convention in Cleveland. A book on golf is now in preparation by a St. Louis publishing house.

Firemen Put Out Roof Blaze; Help Halt Runaway

Members of the fire department extinguished a roof fire at the home of Mrs. Ethel Taylor, 851 South Clay, avenue, at 1:15 o'clock Thursday afternoon, and a short time later rescued a man who was being dragged through a garden by a team of mules.

The fireman answered the alarm to the Taylor residence and found the roof in flames. The blaze was extinguished with a small hand pump. Sparks from a burning trash fire are believed to have started the fire.

As the firemen were preparing to return to the station they noticed a man, whose name they did not learn, being dragged across a garden by a team of mules who had become frightened. The man had the lines under his arms and was unable to stop the animals.

Fireman Wiley Shawen ran ahead of the mules, grabbed one by the bridle and rescued the plowman, who was only slightly injured. He had been dragged about 50 feet before Shawen could overtake the animals.

Young People Hold Hard-Times Party At Youth Center

Students of David Prince Junior High school and other seventh and eighth graders throughout the community held a "hard-times" party Wednesday night at the Y.M.C.A. Youth Center.
The young people all came dressed in a fashion corresponding to the theme of the evening. Many of the costumes showed originality and cleverness.

Those chosen as having the best costumes were Don Jensen, Elizabeth Agger, Don Andrews and Ann Nar-anick.
The evening was spent in dancing and playing games.
The facilities of the Y.M.C.A. Youth Center are reserved each Wednesday night for the young people of junior high age. Young people in this age group throughout the county are cordially invited to visit the center either on Wednesday or on Saturday, when a special dance is usually held for high school and junior high school youngsters.

Lloyd Mangrum, Stranahan Lead Masters Tourney

Augusta, Ga., April 7.—(P)—Lloyd Mangrum, who makes more money out of playing golf than anyone else in the business, and Frank Stranahan, who probably spends more on the same game, showed the way through the opening round of the 13th Masters tournament today.

Mangrum, the swarthy, mustached pro who represents the Tam O'Shanter Club near Chicago, fired a three-under-par 69 over the windswept Augusta national course.

Stranahan, the wealthy Toledo amateur, came in only one stroke behind him.

These two and four experienced pros—Clayton Heafner, Johnny Revolta, Dick Metz, and Leland Gibson—were the only ones who could break par among the 58 golfers chosen for the Masters because of their outstanding records. These four came in with 71's and Lawson Little, another veteran, had an even par 72.

Lakers Hold 2-0 Lead In Series With Capitols

Minneapolis, April 7.—(P)—Red Auerbach's Washington Redskins learned how to stop Minneapolis' George Mikan but the lesson cost them a 76-62 verdict Wednesday night in the second game of the Basketball Association of America title playoffs.

The high-scoring Mikan was held to just ten points, his lowest total of the season. How costly the Caps' lesson may have been is yet to be seen, for the Lakers are now two up in the best-of-seven series.

A crowd of 10,122, a BAA record for Minneapolis, saw the Lakers adapt themselves quickly to Washington's revamped defense. The strategy was to throw as many big men as possible at Mikan close to the boards and let the other Lakers shoot from out on the floor.

The long ones went in with a regularity Auerbach must have found disturbing. The Caps made a battle of it through the first period, but the Lakers built up a 31-21 lead early in the second. From then on, Washington trailed by 10 points most of the time and often 15.

The series will be resumed Friday at Washington.

VAUGHT, ROBINSON & FOREMAN, Attorneys for Plaintiffs, 201-207 Professional Bldg., Jacksonville, Illinois.

Springfield, Mo., April 7.—(P)—A federal court jury tonight awarded $51,428.56 in damages to Mickey Owen, former Brooklyn Dodger catcher, in his counter suit against Jorge Pasquel, former Mexican baseball league president.

The figure represents the unpaid portion of Owen's salary for 1946 and his complete salary for 1947, 1948 and 1949.

It does not include payment of Owen's income tax for the period, which Owens claimed Pasquel had promised to pay for him under his 1946 contract.

The verdict was given two hours after the jury began deliberations in Pasquel's $125,500 recovery suit against Owen, and the latter's counter-claim against Pasquel for $83,000.

Pasquel's suit was filed after Owen left Pasquel's Vera Cruz club of the Mexican league in 1946.

Victor B. Harris, attorney for the former Mexican league magnate, told the jury "the case of Mickey Owen is a tragedy of his making."

Owen's attorney, E. C. Curtis, told the court "Pasquel was only seeking publicity when he filed the suit against Owen" and added:

"He filed it in bad faith."

In his instructions to the jury, Judge Albert L. Reeves directed the jury of ten men and two women to consider a $125,000 bonus claim Pasquel said he gave Owen.

Judge Reeves also told the jury if it found Owen was removed as manager "it is my duty to tell you it was breach of contract."

Testimony at the trial indicated two contracts were signed between the Mexican league mogul and Owen. The first, signed April 2, 1946, specified he was being hired as player-manager. The second, according to the testimony, was signed April 12, 1946 at Laredo, Tex., but failed to mention the position of player-manager.

Judge Reeves held that the later contract was an amendment upon the first.

One of Owen's counter-claims set forth that he had not been provided with a suitable apartment as Pasquel had promised.

"There is no question but that Pasquel carried out his part of the contract as to the apartment," the judge said in his instructions.

The case, postponed a half dozen times, went to trial last Tuesday. Pasquel did not attend.

Blueboys Make Baseball Debut At St. Louis Today

The lusty bat of big Bill Gross is expected to swing plenty of baseball games in favor of Illinois College this spring. The big boy from Danville is returning for his second year at first base for Joe Brooks' college nine, and his stick work may carry a lot of weight in the Blueboys' quest for a CCI conference crown.

BILL GROSS

The Hilltoppers open an 18-game schedule this afternoon when they travel to St. Louis for their first game with Concordia. They make their initial appearance at home Monday, April 11, when they play host to Galesburg Extension of the U. of I.

Al Miller, athletic director at Illinois college, will miss his first Blueboy baseball game in many months this afternoon. Al is attending a two-day football coaching session at Purdue University.

Saner, Routh Hurler, Sideline On Eve Of Mt. Sterling Opener

Tragedy struck Paul Stroud's Routh high school baseball team on the eve of their diamond opener with Mt. Sterling here today. Paul Saner, big sophomore hurler, tangled with a heat lamp Wednesday evening, and Paul got the worst of the bout.

Consequently the big blond lad will be unable to open the '49 baseball season for Coach Stroud, who is searching for a replacement as the deadline approaches. Billy Kaufmann, a freshman, appears to be the logical choice for this afternoon's mound chores, although A. J. Spreen, junior basketball star, can peg 'em in there if the situation gets too desperate.

Otherwise the Rocket nine is set with Joe Murphy, a steady senior, holding down the catching assignment, and Jim Clancy standing by as an able replacement. Joe will start this afternoon's contest behind the plate, and Clancy, a soph, will play the hot corner.

Tony Cobb, a port-throwing junior, is firmly entrenched at the number-one sack, and Danny Whalen, also a junior, will be given his first crack at the keystone job this p.m. Paul Kennedy, one of the two seniors on the team, rounds out the infield at the shortstop post.

The outfield is patrolled by a trio of heavy hitters. A. J. Spreen, who is lettering in baseball for the third time as a junior, is firmly entrenched in left field. Sonny Lomenager, a lusty swinger for such a little guy, has the centerfield position well in hand, and Ed Lawless, the other senior on the squad, is in right field. Sophomores John Kennedy and Ed Plannagan represent capable reserve strength.

Coach Stroud, who is enjoying a successful first year in the coaching game, announced the remainder of his baseball schedule Wednesday afternoon.

Ohio State Favored To Win Big Nine Baseball Crown

Chicago, April 7.—(P)—Ohio State's veteran-studded Buckeye nine is favored in the Western conference baseball race which opens with Northwestern at Illinois tomorrow and Saturday.

Illinois and Michigan shared the crown last season with 10-won, 2-lost records, but both had to be rebuilt considerably this spring.

Ohio State, on the other hand, enters the 1949 campaign with eight returning regulars, including Pete Perini and Outfielder Ray Gebhardt, the league's top pitcher and starter, respectively last year.

The Buckeyes don't begin championship play until their two-game set against Wisconsin in Columbus, April 22-23, when the race moves into full swing.

Although he has to rebuild a new team, Coach Ray Fisher—beginning his 29th season as Wolverine boss—is expected to field a strong contender at Michigan. Also ranked as threats to Ohio State are Indiana and Purdue.

The Hoosiers should get good hitting from an experienced squad, needing on pitching aid to become a title contender. Purdue's Bolle-makers, who finished fourth last season, have seven regulars back and should be formidable if they can rebuild their infield.

Cubs Work Triple Play In 7-1 Win Over Brownies

Dallas, Tex., April 7.—(P)—The Chicago Cubs worked a triple play and clouted three home runs today in a 7-1 exhibition triumph over the St. Louis Browns.

The triple killing came in the third inning. After Ed Pellegrini singled and Bill Kennedy walked, Bob Dillinger lined to Emil Verban. The cub second sacker tossed to shortstop Roy Smalley, doubling Pellegrini. Smalley then flipped to Phil Cavarretta at first, catching Kennedy for the third out.

Frankie Gustine belted a two-run homer to spark a 3-run Chicago spree in the first inning. Bob Scheffing hit for the circuit in the eighth and Clarence Madden slammed a two-run homer in the ninth. St. Louis (A) ... 000 000 100—7; Chicago (N) ... 300 000 022—14; Kennedy, Ferrick (8) and Moss; Lade, Hammer, (8), and Scheffing; Novatney (8).

Hit Batsman In 11th Gives Phils Win Over Atlanta

Atlanta, Ga., April 7.—(P)—A hit batsman with the bases loaded in the 11th inning gave the Philadelphia Phillies a 7-6 triumph over the Atlanta Southern Association club today. The Phils needed Ed Waitkus' two-run homer in the seventh to tie the score and send the game into extra innings.

Phila. (N) 001 300 200 01—7 12; Atlanta (S) 020 020 000 0—6 8; Borowy, Pischel (6), Konstanty (6) and Lopata; Taylor Hodkey (6) and Dapper, Wilson (6).

Banker Says Social Security Program Is Uneven Taxation

Washington, April 7.—(P)—George B. Robinson, retired banker of Irvington, N. Y., told a House committee today that the social security program "constitutes an uneven, inequitable and discriminatory plan of taxation."

Robinson testified "for myself, alone" at the ways and means committee hearing on a measure which would extend social security coverage to about 20,000,000 more people and liberalize benefit payments.

He opposed all provisions of the bill except that to increase to two percent the tax payable by both employers and wage earners.

Robinson said the program's objectives were "unsuccessful and not acceptable" because they would cause uneven taxation and would not prepare the government to pay future benefits.

He supported higher tax rates now, but opposed extending and increasing benefit payments until reserves could be accumulated.

Cleveland Whips NY Giants 11 To 8

Only manager Leo Durocher showed midseason form today as the Cleveland Indians took an 11-8 slugfest from the Lip's New York Giants.

The fiery Giant manager was chased from the field by Umpire Charley Berry for protesting too strenuously a decision at second base in the sixth inning.

Bob Feller started for Cleveland and got by without yielding a run until the fourth. Then Bobby Thompson's double, four singles and two passes netted New York four runs. Rapid Robert gave up another pair in the fifth. Mike Garcia took over the pitching mound in the sixth.

Cleveland (A) ... 100 112 240—11 16; New York (N) ... 000 421 100—8 12; Feller, Garcia (6), Zolack (8) and Hegon, Murray (7); Jones, Ayres (8), Tomasic (9) and Cooper, Franks (7).

New York Stock Market

New York, April 7.—(P)—The stock market started to slip around noon today and a wide variety of issues declined fractions to more than a point. Selling pressure soon slackened and the market coasted along at the lower level.

The down trend followed a couple of hours of more or less aimless price movements.

Trading activity, slow during the morning, picked up for a while but later reverted to a dawdling pace. Business was at the rate of about 900,000 shares for the full session.

Some brokers associated the selling with secretary of agriculture Brannan's presentation of a new theory of farm price supports which many considered a drastic expansion of federal control over agriculture. Marked down were U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Studebaker, Montgomery Ward, American Telephone, Consolidated Natural Gas, Chesapeake and Ohio and Great Northern preferred.

Among the steadier spots were Packard, Sears Roebuck and Radio Corp.

In the bond market most corporate issues moved narrowly. U. S. government bonds held steady in over-the-counter dealings.

Enos Slaughter Believes Baseball Is A Running Game

New Orleans, La., April 7.—(P)—Enos (Country) Slaughter, newly appointed captain of the St. Louis Cardinals, is a fellow who is always in a hurry.

The first thing you notice about this hustling, bustling outfielder from Roxboro, N. C. is the way he runs—not like a fellow who gets paid for running, but like a guy who believes that baseball is a game to be played at top speed if it is to be played at all.

When Slaughter takes his place in the outfield, he runs. When he comes in at the end of a half inning, he runs. When he hits a tap back to the pitcher's box he goes down the first base line as if his life depended on it. And when he returns to the bench, after being thrown out, he still runs.

Slaughter is a throwback to the old days of the Gas House Gang, an earlier edition of the Cardinals that includes such fabulous characters as Dixie Dean, Pepper Martin, Frankie Frisch and Leo Durocher. There was a team that ran.

There's only one way to play the game of baseball," the stocky 195-pounder will tell you. "Go all out and give it all you got. If you don't you get out because you don't belong up here."

GOLD IN CALIFORNIA

... was a favorite topic of conversation in Morgan county a hundred years ago. Some men did more than talk about it—they organized mutual companies and set out toward the evening sun. Every man was aware of the hazards of the trail; in fact, most of them overcame the perils of the long trip. But every individual was confident that misfortune would strike somebody else, that he'd return someday "with a goodly amount of the shining metal."

Beginning Saturday the Journal-Courier will present the diary kept by Elijah Milford Rees, proprietor of Evergreen Farm, who left for the mines of California on April 9, 1849.

Owner of Plane Awarded $2,000 In Damage Suit

Fred Wharton, owner of the Jacksonville airport south of the city, was awarded $2,000 Wednesday in circuit court in his suit against Gale B. Ranson, administrator of the estate of John W. Villagomez, who was killed in an airplane crash east of Alexander on Feb. 20, 1947.

Wharton sued for damages for loss of the light training plane which Villagomez was piloting at the time of death. The plaintiff charged negligence of operation.

Judge L. E. Whitte awarded damages after a hearing which lasted more than three hours. This is believed to be the first time that damages have been awarded in an Illinois court for loss of an airplane through negligence.

Villagomez and Keith Brown lost their lives when the plane crashed east of Alexander. Evidence showed that Villagomez was at the controls. Wharton asked $2,500 damages for the plane in his suit.

The plaintiff was represented by Edward J. Flynn and Harry G. Story. The attorneys for the estate were William T. Wilson and John B. Wright.

Deann Bond Struck By Auto Yesterday

A governor limiting the speed of a new Studebaker automobile to 20 miles per hour probably prevented a serious traffic accident late Thursday afternoon, police officers said.

Clifford Farmer of 908 Allen avenue, was driving the car north on Hardin avenue when Deann Bond, 11, 508 Hardin avenue, darted from behind a car parked about 50 feet south of the stop sign at Routh street. The driver said he was going about 10-15 miles an hour.

The girl was knocked down. Farmer and the girl's father, Dale Bond, took her to Our Saviour's hospital, where she was attended by Dr. A. G. Wolfe for an injured left knee, wrist and chin. Later she was permitted to return to her home.

Officer Charles Runkel investigated the accident.

Swine Producers Study New Methods At U.I.

Urbana—A synthetic, man-made "milk" which makes baby pigs grow faster than they grow on sow's milk, and a new pricing plan for buying hogs were two highlights of Swine Growers' Day at the Illinois College of Agriculture. Both developments are still experimental.

Many pork producers from west central Illinois were among the more than 1,500 swine raisers who attended the meeting Thursday.

A. L. Neumann explained the synthetic milk diet being fed to baby pigs. It has no practical use now, he emphasized, but he has grown baby pigs to a weight of 45 pounds at 8 weeks of age with "milk" made of casein, sugar, mineral salts, and lard. On sow's milk pigs do well to weigh 30 pounds at 8 weeks of age.

Controlled Diet
The artificial milk is too expensive for farmers to use, Neumann relates. He is feeding it to baby pigs as a controlled diet to learn what nutrients speed up or slow down their growth. It is still not known whether the artificial milk will ever become practical for farm use.

The new pricing plan was explained by E. F. Ferrin, University of Minnesota. He said the double-barrelled approach includes pricing live hogs more accurately and grading the carcasses on the rail in the packing plant. This system, now being tested experimentally, has eliminated 83 per cent of the pricing errors in buying hogs, Ferrin stated.

"True" Ferrin admitted, "there are difficulties in selling hogs by carcass weight and grade, but the possibilities are so good that they deserve more study."

Pastures Evaluated
J. L. Krider explained three findings from a test to compare alfalfa with alfalfa-bromegrass pasture. He also fed various protein supplements with each kind of pasture.

"Point 1: Alfalfa-bromegrass is fully as good in every way as pure alfalfa the first year of pasturing," Krider said. "Point 2: Dried corn distillers' solubles give better results when fed with soybean oil meal than when fed with meat scraps as a hog's pasture supplement. Point 3: It makes little difference whether the supplement is fed as a meal or pelleted."

In his report, S. W. Terrill pointed out that pigs need 1.4 milligrams of riboflavin per pound of feed. There are 450 milligrams in a pound, and riboflavin is one of the B vitamins. Without 1.4 milligrams of riboflavin, pigs are pretty runty—they have abnormal feet, legs, and hocks, sometimes walk with a goose step, and have rough coats.

Good Pasture Vitamin-Rich
"You can provide enough riboflavin by feeding 10 per cent good quality alfalfa hay or meal," Terrill said. "Pigs will also get enough if they have good pasture. Or you can feed 4 per cent distillers' solubles plus 1 per cent fish solubles, or 4 per cent distillers' solubles plus 6 per cent alfalfa meal." Cereal grains are low in riboflavin.

In another report, E. L. Butz, Purdue University economist, urged farmers to favor a moderate range of support prices—from 60 to 90 per cent of parity. Butz believes fixed price supports would bring strict, compulsory controls.

"The future of American agriculture lies in more efficient production and expanding selling prices in an ever-expanding market," Butz declared. "Prices maintained at artificially high levels can be only a temporary stimulant. The hangover will make one wonder why he took the drink in the first place."

Swedes Train Ethiopian Army Officers

Addis Ababa, Ethiopia—Four Swedish officers with a combined total of 55 years' service in the Swedish army are training Ethiopian youths to be officers in Emperor Haile Selassie's crack Imperial Guards.

Lt. Col. Rickard Nilsson is school commandant. With him are Capt. Sten Eggert Naucier, Capt. Bengt Horn, and Capt. Vilhelm of Silen. Nilsson is a veteran of 20 years in the Swedish army and a graduate of the Swedish Higher War School at Stockholm. During World War II he served two years at Swedish army while Captain Naucier has served eleven years.

World War II surplus and salvage equipment gives the cadets training in the use of modern arms. This equipment includes light and heavy machine guns, mortars, anti-tank guns, hand grenades, mines and small arms.

Oddly, all instruction in the academy is in English.

Lt. Col. Nilsson has only praise for the Ethiopian cadets. Likewise he says the Swedish officers like their assignments. Their only real inconvenience, Nilsson tells you with a smile, is the absence of winter sports.

ROGER THE LODGER

By Elizabeth R. Roberts

COPYRIGHT BY GREENBERG PUBLISHER
DISTRIBUTED BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Roger, after winning Lieutenant's bars, still wants to live with his wartime house, Mr. and Mrs. Roberts. To catch it, he invites them to the Officer Club at the airport. Then he checks their car. Mr. Roberts is determined to get Roger to move, or to no OPA. But Roger becomes an angel, wins them over with roses and steak. Now he has persuaded Mrs. Roberts and her husband to leave a civilian party and join him at a club dance.

ROGER had told me to go at once to the bar where he would be guarding a row of highballs he'd have poured before the bar closed at 12 o'clock, and that we'd drink them as we danced, since the music would play for a couple of hours longer. It was just midnight when Robbie and I reached the Club and I hustled inside while he parked the car.

I was sitting on a bar stool sipping my first drink when Robbie barged through the door. As usual, he missed the step down from the entrance to the ballroom and rolled across the floor. I saw waiters and the club manager rush to his assistance, and still feeling piqued at him, I pretended I'd never met the man and remained on the bar stool sipping a highball.

It wasn't long until a waiter tapped me as I danced and said, "Gentleman in the checkroom would like to speak to you. I thanked the waiter and said I'd go soon.

I was still sipping my highball when the waiter returned. He wrung his hands and seemed like a man torn between duty and desire to stay out of the picture. He said the gentleman was getting pretty mad and would like to see me immediately. I thanked the waiter and said I'd go soon.

It was a lovely waltz I was enjoying when the waiter returned, this time to beg that one of us, either Roger or I, go at once to the cloakroom. Roger went.

He returned to report that as Rob came out of his barrel roll, the club manager had observed that the dark-blue suit was not a

Tuxedo but a double-breasted pin-stripe, and that since these dances were strictly formal, he had invited Robbie to remain out of sight in the checkroom while a waiter went to get me. Roger said that since Rob was overheated, he thought a highball was in order. He turned to the shelf where his row had been. Had been is the correct form of the verb; the bar was closed and there was nothing to be done about it. No one wanted to carry the message to Garcia, sulking in his tent. So Roger thought up a solution to the problem. "I'll tell you what we'll do," he said. "We'll invite a few of the better people down to the house."

It was two o'clock in the morning. I gave him my are-you-kidding look and he reproved me gently with, "Remember, Lee, these boys will soon be dying for you." It was a punch below the belt; he knew Bill was fighting his way in a coe's shell through hurricanes and enemy action to the Pacific front.

Roger suggested we stop at a bar and have a quickie in order to compensate Rob for the lack he had suffered at the Club, an idea Robbie readily seconded.

"We'll go to Tony's," Rob said. "He's an old tenant of mine. He'll fix us up even if it is closing time."

"Let's match for the first round," Roger said. Rob lost.

Roger ordered a second round and the waiter said the drinks were on the house.

We tossed off that round and Roger said, "How's to take your turn, Roberts?"

"My turn?" Rob exploded. "Why I bought the first round."

"Sure," said Roger. "And I provided the second round."

"You!" Rob shouted. "That round was on the house on account of me. I own this dump. You can thank me for that dividend."

"Heh, heh," Roger chortled in weak laughter. "I was just kidding. Wanted to see if you'd fall for it."

THE boys brought their appetites. "They're used to something to eat about this time of night," Roger tipped me off.

"Food for this mob!" I counted 20 noses.

"Here's a whole loaf of bread and half of another," Roger informed me, having led off to the kitchen, "and a couple dozen eggs. What we need is some ham or bacon."

"Ham or bacon," I echoed. "How many points do you think we have?" As usual, I felt lacking. I needn't have. Roger remembered the tin of Polish ham which had recently been sent us as a gift. "That'll be absolutely out of this world," I wish it had been.

He opened the can and turned out a most beautiful ham imbedded in a thick coating of aspic. As Roger, slicing industriously, tossed slice after slice from table to frying pan, much of the aspic broke loose and fell to the floor. Soon we had aspic coated linoleum, and as the kitchen filled with hungry people attracted by the delicious smell of ham and coffee cooking, the footing became treacherous. Warned and worked by many feet, the aspic flowed like glue, and I saw one strong man who had stood too long in one spot lean over and with both hands loosen first one foot and then the other from the floor.

It was little satisfaction next morning, as I scrubbed the floor, the cupboard doors, and the side walls, and retrieved plates from under the piano, behind the love seats, balanced on lamp shades, piled on the hearth—plates with ham fat congealed on them and remnants of scrambled eggs dried hard—to remember it was all my own fault.

Roger's new colonel apparently enjoyed the party at the Annex, as the boys now called our house. Though the eggs had tarnished the silver tines of our forks to a dull gold, by some strange alchemy they also turned the gold of Roger's bars to silver.

Cropsey and Klee Paintings Shown At MacMurray

An art exhibit of great diversity has just been opened at Pfeiffer Library of MacMurray College. Water-colors by J. F. Cropsey, 19th century American artist, are on display in the downstairs lobby, and in the trustees' room hangs an example of the work of Paul Klee, important modern Swiss artist.

The public is cordially invited to visit the exhibit, which will remain until Saturday, April 16.

The Cropseys belong to the College, being part of a collection left by Mr. Kitchell. They are landscapes of the Hudson River Valley, a section of which has given the name "Hudson River School" to a group of artists of whom Cropsey was a prominent representative.

This "School" offers rich material to the student of history and sociology, for its artists were painting at a time when our country was expanding rapidly, and their paintings were undoubtedly motivated by the assurance, confidence, and patriotic pride of the period.

Paul Klee, who died in 1940, has been of great influence in art for many years; indeed, he is probably as important a figure as Picasso. The picture in the exhibit was borrowed from Perry Rathbone, director of the City Art Museum in St. Louis and is the first of a series which the MacMurray art department hopes to exhibit. The department feels that the display of a single work by important contemporary artists, accompanied by literature by or about the artist, will open the door to a clearer understanding and appreciation of the art of our time.
